Additional supplies you will need:

- Scissors

Directions:

1. Plug in the hot glue gun to start heating.
2. Cut out the paper heart template.
3. Use the marker to trace the heart two times on the cardboard. Cut out.
4. Trace the heart two times on the back side of the painted burlap. Cut out. (If you want an exact match, trace around the cardboard hearts instead of the paper for this step.)
5. Using the glue gun and the finger guard, glue the burlap heart onto the cardboard heart, with the white facing out. Press firmly to adhere.
6. Take one of the 12" pieces of rope. Starting at the top V of the heart (not the bottom tip), glue the rope to the cut edge of the cardboard. Glue in small sections and press firmly to set. When you make it back to the top, glue the tail to the back of the heart.
7. Cut the lace ribbon in half for two 5" pieces. To get a V-shaped end, fold the ribbon in half lengthwise. Cut across the ribbon at an approximately 45 degree angle, starting at the folded side and cutting diagonally toward the outer corner.
8. Cut the ends of the wire ribbon the same way.
9. Pinch the middle of the lace to make a bowtie shape, and hot glue it to the heart.
10. Pinch a piece of wire ribbon the same way, and glue it on top of the lace.
11. Glue a button in the center of the bow.

12. Cut the red cord in half for two 8" pieces. Tie a loose knot at each end of the cord, and glue the knots to the back of the cardboard.
13. Repeat the steps to finish the second heart.
14. Hang up and enjoy!
